

Come learn about the Michigan Cultural Data Project

- The CDP is an online tool that helps arts and cultural organizations improve their financial management and services and arts advocates to better understand and describe the sector's impact. After completing the form annually, you can generate instant annual reports and trend analysis, benchmark your performance against other organizations and use the data as part of your application to participating foundations.
- This training will provide what you need to start – you do not need to bring your data.
- One hour prior to each session, ArtServe Michigan will host a brief policy and resources update. More details at www.artservemichigan.org.
